

Wesley Circle of Friends Toddler Newsletter January 2022

January

We hope you all had a very wonderful holiday and enjoyed some extra cuddles with your children. The extended time at home and all the fun and travels may mean your child reverts to some old habits of clinging at drop off. Don't fret. It is perfectly normal and won't last long.

We have a lot of exciting crafts planned for this month, including creating winter scenes, penguins and polar bears plus a beautiful tribute to Martin Luther King.

A reminder: as the weather turns colder and wetter, rain and snow boots will be a big part of your child's outdoor wardrobe. Although great for keeping little toes warm and dry, they are not conducive to playing within the classroom or the gym and can become a tripping hazard. We ask that you change your child into footwear appropriate for playing indoors when you arrive at the school. Additionally, warm clothes often have a lot of snaps and buttons. Please try to remember we have several diapers to change a day and sometimes speed is extremely important. Simple pants and pullovers work the best for us. Thanks for your cooperation!

Book of the month: Olaf's 1-2-3

Song of the month:
Skidamarink-A-Dink-A-Dink

Important Dates

Monday, January 17: Martin Luther King Day: No school

Inside the Toddler Room

Miss Julie and Miss Cecily