

Three's Newsletter for October

Hello parents, as we get into the cooler months, please dress your child in layers. Our classroom can get warm, but we will be using the playground as much as possible. Please send in pants to replace shorts in your child's extra clothes bag. In the upcoming weeks we are learning about Fall and the amazing changes all around us! As we explore outside, we will observe how the trees change, how the animals prepare for Winter, and we will also celebrate Halloween. We will continue working on being independent and taking care of ourselves. Please help your child practice by doing as much as they can with guidance and not doing it for them. Such confidence and encouragement will go a long way for their future learning. Our daily songs, calendar counting, and circle time gatherings have established our routines and classroom expectations. With your child, count everyday objects, look for shapes, colors and read, read, read! Listening to stories is a very big part of becoming a good reader and enjoy those snuggles and reading time together!

Please reach out if you have any questions.

The best way to reach us is to message us on Class Dojo.

We have enjoyed getting to know your children!

Miss Stacie and Miss Julie
